Annual Report of the Navy Department

SHIPS AND MEN WANTED.

The Next National Convention of Republicans to be held at Chicago.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 8.—The Speaker laid before the House to-day, the annual reports of the Secretary of the Treasury and Attorney General and Clerk of the House. A Committee of Mileage was announced as follows: Rogers of Arkansas, Belden of New York, Howard of Indiana, Burnett of Massachusetts and Felton of California.

Representative Springer offered a resolution abolishing the committees of the Pacific Railroad, invalid pensioners, mileage, militia, and improvement of the Mississippi River and the transfer of their functions to other committees.

Secretary Fairchilds recommended that the salary of the Assistant Treasurer at San Francisco be increased to $6,000 per annum and the salaries of the Assistant Treasurers at Chicago, New Orleans and St. Louis to $5,000 each.

The House then adjourned until Monday, after the introduction of a few resolutions relating to amendment of the rules.

The Senate.

After reading the journal and presentation of a few department communications, the Senate, on motion of Farwell, adjourned till Monday.

OUR NAVY.

Report of the Secretary—Some Valuable Suggestions.

WASHINGTON, December 8.—The annual report of the Secretary of the Navy was made public to-day. Considerable space is given to statistics and details of the operations of the various branches of the service which are not of general interest. The report says that many difficulties stood in the way of the creation of a creditable new navy. During the last year many of these have been removed, and if it is the will of the country that we be possessed of a navy able to maintain the honor and dignity of the government, it can now readily be accomplished. The most notable fact connected with the work of last year concerns cruisers, Numbers 4 and 5. Congress, by act of legislation, last winter put to a test the ability of the department and of American shipbuilders by the construction of cruisers having the highest standard. The requirements of the law have been observed, and these cruisers are now under contract with adequate security of the results to be attained. American shipbuilders have in these contracts placed themselves on a line with the foremost in the world.

TORPEDO WARFARE.

Touching on the subject of torpedo boats and pneumatic dynamite guns, the report says: "To sum up this matter, the Department deems it unwise to follow at present the course of European powers in building unprotected torpedo boats. It recognizes the power of the dynamite projectile, and believes it practicable to embody it in such a manner as will insure its reaching any desired object of attack in spite of known weapons, and upon that problem the Department is now engaged. The pneumatic dynamite gun has been developed by private enterprise to a point where it meets immediate attention. Against its method of attack neither nets nor machine guns are of any considerable use. There are, however, questions yet to be settled before its efficiency for naval purposes can be fully determined. For coast and harbor defense, to be fired from land batteries, its accuracy is substantially established, but for naval purposes other elements of difficulty intervene.

ECONOMICAL REFORM.

During the past year a new system has been inaugurated for handling stores and supplies, which has resulted in a saving of over 25 per cent.

A NAVAL RESERVE ADVOCATED.

Public feeling seems to exist for the creation of a naval reserve and committees of the Chambers of Commerce of New York and San Francisco have passed resolutions urging the organization of such a force as a means of providing for coast defense and meeting the increased demands on the naval establishment for men and vessels upon an outbreak of war. The department has informed itself fully of the different systems of organization for coast defense and naval reserves at present in force in foreign countries, and is prepared to formulate a general plan for a similar organization to meet the requirements and conditions of our own institutions. In the time of war, troopships or transports are in great demand. Several European governments have an annual contribution based on tonnage to companies constructing new vessels. A notable illustration of the generosity with which England pushes her shipping interest is seen in the manner in which she is dealing with her

TRADE IN THE NORTH PACIFIC.

It has been thus far principally under the American flag and contributary to San Francisco and the United States. The British government and Canada together are proposing the establishment of lines of first class steamers from Vancouver to Japan and a subsidy is likely to be paid of $60,000 annually, $45,000 from England and $15,000 from Canada. This will also be contributed from the naval reserve fund, probably $5 per ton annually for each ship constructed for the route, which will increase the sum to probably $125,000. Under such competition it is quite easy to conjecture what will become of the American flag and our resources in the North Pacific.

NEW SHIPS ASKED FOR.

The report recommends the commencement of two additional armorclad vessels to cost, exclusive of armament, a sum not exceeding $600,000 one to be built by contract and the other in one of the navy yards. He also asks for authority to build three more fast cruisers of the highest type. The report of the chief constructor states that but four of the present cruisers will remain serviceable at the end of six years, and that the present navy will have disappeared. Attention is called to the considerations presented in that report in reference to the provision of additional facilities for naval work on the Pacific coast, especially in the neighborhood of Puget Sound, the great coal and iron region of the future upon that coast. Apart from this question of an additional naval station, measures should certainly be taken to place the only naval station now existing upon the coast, that at San Francisco, in a fully equipped condition.

OCEAN SURVEYS.

In reference to the continuance of ocean surveys, it appears highly desirable that rocks and shoals reported to exist in the Pacific ocean and the Carribean Sea, but not put down on charts, should be searched for and located.

SHIPBUILDING.

Under the head of shipbuilding, the report says: "It is believed that our private ship yards can produce war ships equal and perhaps superior to those produced elsewhere, when these industries shall have been established. It is notably in this connection that the efforts of the department to raise the standard of material for ships has resulted in a class of material believed to be superior to any ever produced for any similar purpose. Especially has the steel made upon the Pacific coast been notable for its durability in the construction of cruisers. These facts may mark an important event in its industrial history.

MORE MEN WANTED.

The report concludes by saying: "A point has now been reached when an increase in the number of officers and men is absolutely required by the demands of the service. It is not possible for the present limited complement to perform efficiently the duties imposed on it. The number of second-lieutenants is now fifteen, and is subject to further reduction. At the same time promotion in higher grades is blocked. The number of enlisted men is also inadequate. At none of the shore stations are there enough men to carry on duty, and numerous vacancies exist in the guards of vessels, which it is impossible to fill. On the Pacific station alone there are no less than thirty made members on corps, and the consequent overwork leads to frequent desertions. In view of these facts I strongly recommend that the number of officers be increased, and that the complement of enlisted men be raised by the addition of 500 privates.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Chicago Selected as the Next Meeting Place.

WASHINGTON, December 8.—The Republican National Committee was called to order at the Arlington Hotel this morning, by Chairman Jones, who briefly stated that the purpose of the meeting was to select a time and place for holding the next National Convention.

He said: "We may congratulate ourselves upon the improved prospects of the Republican party since the National Committee met in this city four years ago for the same purpose that we are now assembled. At that time the majority against the Republican party in the North at the last preceding State elections counted up in the hundreds of thousands. Though by accident the Democratic party has the Presidency and

PRESTIGE OF SUCCESS,

The signs are auspicious for the election of a Republican President in 1888. The momentum acquired by twenty-five years' prevalence of Republican principles has not yet lost its force, and the material interests of the country are still prosperous as a result of Republican industrial legislation. Recent utterances, however, indicate a determination to end this prosperity by adverse legislation forced upon the country by an administration hostile to American industry, and also indicate the necessity of a return to power of the Republican party in the national government, so that American industry, wool growing and sugar raising equally with iron making and textile production, may have continued prosperity, and employés in these industries get the constant employment and continued good wages American workmen should receive."

The roll was then called, and every State and Territory, with one or two exceptions, was represented by delegate or proxy.

PRESENTATION OF DELEGATES.

The committee on invitation of the National League decided to adjurn the meeting to the League headquarters, and when the committee reassembled it was finally decided that fifteen minutes should be accorded each delegation to present the claims of the different cities.

The first delegation admitted was that from Minnesota, who urged the claim of Minneapolis.

Windom advocated the northwest as the place for holding the national convention.

General Henderson of Missouri, spokesman of a large delegation favoring St. Louis, presented the plans of the St. Louis Music Hall, and argued that the hotel and railroad accommodations were excelled by none. He promised in behalf of the press fairness to all candidates.

Mayor Roche detailed the conveniences of Chicago, which, he said, were better than any city.

Senator Cullom spoke earnestly in favor of Chicago, and made a brief resume of the hotel, railroad and telegraphic facilities of the city of Chicago.

Senator Manderson spoke for Omaha, which he said would supply the presidential candidates with headquarters free of charge.

Congressman Butterworth presented Cincinnati as a place peculiarly suited for the convention. Murat Halstead seconded Butterworth in favoring Cincinnati.

Congressman Bingham eloquently presented the claims of Philadelphia.

Colonel Elam, of Richmond, Va., favored that State, and reviewed the history of the Republican party in that State since 1878.

Governor Gilette presented Dakota's claims and described Dakota's treatment by the present administration as the blackest page in American history.

The formal papers presenting the claims of Chicago, Minneapolis and Omaha were then submitted and it was resolved that the committee proceed to an informal ballot. An amendment was offered and adopted, to vote viva voce instead of by ballot.

RESULT OF THE BALLOT.

The result of the second ballot was as follows: Number of ballots cast 47, necessary to choice 24. Chicago received 25, Omaha 1, Cincinnati 13, Minneapolis 8.

A resolution was adopted that the Territories of Dakota and Washington elect four contingent delegates to the regular delegates whose admission is to be decided by the convention. A vote of thanks was given to the National Republican League, of Washington for the kindness and courtesy extended the committee in placing the club house at the disposal of the committee.

EFFECT IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, December 8.—Almost as soon as Chicago had been chosen as the place of holding the Republican convention, hotels were in receipt of telegrams from many committees, asking that apartments be reserved for them. J. B. Chaffee and W. A. Hamill, representing the Colorado delegation, wired for the same rooms as were given them at the last convention. The Ohio delegation, represented by A. L. Conger, telegraphed for rooms. Pennsylvania people represented by Chris L. Magee desired ten rooms. Many of the leading papers in New York, Baltimore and Cincinnati have engaged rooms.

ALONG THE LINE.

Latest Movements in Railroad Circles.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 8.—The price of sleeping-car berths from Omaha or Council Bluffs over the Union Pacific has been reduced to $12 50. The former rate was $14, which was also the rate to this city. The former price will be maintained for berths to this city. This is owing to the fact of numerous breaks between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

THE NEW FREIGHT RATES

Under the transcontinental agreement go into effect about the 1st of January, 1888. Several agents are in receipt of a partial list of the rates, and the complete list is expected in a few days. Roads not in the agreement will make rates in conformity with the new list. Canned goods will be shipped East at the rate of $1 per hundred.

THE PORTLAND EXCURSION

Postponed from Saturday till Monday was again postponed until one week from to-morrow and there is no surety that it will then occur. Owing to the general bad weather, the roads in the northern part of this State and in Oregon are in a bad condition and the excursion will not be held until the weather becomes settled.

Austria Keeping a Watchful Eye on Russia.

MILITARY PREPARATIONS

Residents of St. Petersburg Assert that War is not Intended.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

PESTH, December 8.—In the best informed circles the situation arising from the reinforcement of the Russian troops in Poland is not regarded as portending imminent danger. Nothing more will be done yet beyond sending warning to Russia that Austria is watchful and will not leave unanswered any further military measure that Russia takes. Austria does not want to precipitate measures because she does not desire to leave Russia without a loophole or give her retreat the appearance of being due to Austrian menace. It is expected that Austria will grant to Russia a brief delay for furnishing spontaneous explanation as to the massing of troops. Meanwhile Austrian preparations will quickly continue. The press regard matters in a perfectly calm spirit.

ACTION IN VIENNA

VIENNA, December 8.—The Emperor has summoned another Military Council for to-morrow. Colonel Zockefa, a Russian military attache here, has been summoned to St. Petersburg. Advices from the frontier say that the Russian troops are suffering from bad accommodations and bad food.

THE WAR OFFICE

Is taking measures to permanently increase the facilities by which troops can be mobilized and to place Galicia in a better position for defense. At the military council to-day it was decided not to summon delegations for the present, as Russia has apparently stopped her menacing movements. Measures for mobilization of the troops were arranged, which will be immediately adopted should Russia continue massing troops on the frontier.

OPINION IN RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, December 8.—Well informed persons assert that the Russian Government's intentions are entirely pacific, and that the public opinion in Russia is also in favor of peace. Russia's movements on the frontier consist merely in the despatching thither of a division of cavalry not with an aggressive idea but for protecting certain localities.

An Important Bill Before the Mexican Congress.

CITY OF MEXICO, (via Galveston), December 8.—An important financial measure was introduced in Congress this evening, being a bill to permit the government to contract a loan of £10,000,000. It is believed that this is the beginning of the development of a scheme to fund the existing national debt in such a manner as will reduce the burdens of the government, and that behind it is a group of English and French bankers who regard the loan as entirely feasible.

NO DEFENSE.

Maurin On Trial in Connection With the Hagenow Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 8.—Jules Maurin, cook and nurse of Mrs. "Dr." Hagenow recently tried on a charge of murdering Louise De Chow was examined to-day, being accused of having falsely impersonated Dr. De Derky by signing his name to the death certificate. Dr. De Derky did not sign the certificate, but endeavored to excuse the act by saying that he would have certified that the girl died of peritonitis, having been called to attend her. Maurin made no defense, and was held to answer with bail fixed at $2000.

CLARA AND SENECA.

Informations Against them Filed The Charges.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 8.—Five informations charging Clara Belle McDonald with forgery and one information charging Seneca A. Swalm with grand larceny, were filed in Judge Toohey's court yesterday by the District Attorney. Each of the informations against Clara Belle alleges that she forged the signature of her father-in-law to five shares of Central Pacific Railroad stock, valued at $1000 per share.

The information against Swalm alleges that he stole a diamond necklace valued a $2500, two diamond bracelets valued at $900, a crescent diamond pin valued $100, a diamond opal spider pin worth $50 and three diamonds worth $200, all being property.

OREGON WEATHER.

Traffic Impeded in Many Parts of the State.

PORTLAND, December 8.—Rains all over the State have swollen all the streams and many are impassable. The Upper Willamette is twenty feet above low water, higher than at any time last winter. The docks at Oregon City are submerged and navigation between Portland and valley points is suspended until the water subsides. There are reports of loss of stock by farmers. Several booms of logs were carried away, and lumber and flour mills all along the Willamette are obliged to shut down.

FURIOUS AT ASTORIA.

The heavy gale at Astoria did much damage to property. A number of buildings were partially unroofed, and two canneries blown down. The aggregate damage is quite heavy. Several families were forced to abandon their houses in the night, and amid the raging gale and drenching rain storm, take refuge in neighbors' houses. The Clatsop Mill Co. lost large quantities of lumber which was blown from the wharf. The damage to the Adair Cannery is over $3000. Shipping in the stream escaped with small damage despite the gale.

YAQUINA'S REPORT.

YAQUINA BAY, December 8.—The lull in the gale was only temporary, and it increased again during the night. It is impossible to reach the steamship Yaquina City yet from the seaward, therefore the removal of her cargo has been begun. The gale is the most severe and continuous known here for years.

FEDERAL COURTS.

Hoffman's Opinion Regarding Congressional Inquiry.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 8.—In an interview to-day with regard to the statement published here that a Congressional inquiry into the workings of the Federal courts of this city was likely to be held, Judge Hoffman said: "I think the only result will be to delay needed legislation on the Chinese question. What we want is to have the form of certificates changed so as to have the time in which they will be good, limited, and above all, do away with the prior residence plea, which causes all the trouble. If a Congressional committee comes out here and spends a lengthy period of time in digging up what is needed, they will not find anything crooked in my acts, and I am certain none in Judge Sawyer's or Judge Sabin's.

A POOR POLICY.

Speaking of the charge that a reporter and stenographer accepted fees from Chinese released on writs of habeas corpus, Judge Hoffman said: "I have made an inquiry and find that it is true. Yet I do not imagine that these officers are corrupt or can be corrupted. The Government is not liberal with its employees and without this fee neither of the men alluded to could make a living."

WASHINGTON, December 8.—Resolutions were passed by woolgrowers and dealers to-day urging that the present unjust classification of wool by railroads be removed and that the wool be placed in their new classification, also declaring the necessity for central organization at Washington and elsewhere and requesting all wool-growing associations to send their addresses at once to Albert Chapman of Middleburg, Vermont.

The force sent against the revolutionists was victorious. Honduras and San Salvador assisted in overthrowing the revolution, and the citizens also voluntarily assisted. Three of the chief revolutionists were courtmartialed, condemned and shot. During the same time an attempt was made to capture the barracks at Huehuehenango. It resulted in a two hours' fight, and a number were killed and wounded on both sides. Five more rebel officers were then condemned and shot.

POWDERLY'S PUBLICATIONS.

His Views on the Present Telegraph System.

PHILADELPHIA, December 8.—The third series of letters, addressed by Powderly to the Knights of Labor, is published. It is confined to an attack on the Western Union Telegraph Company, with the recommendation that the United States Government control all telegraph lines. The plan of placing the stock of the only telegraph system in the Union in the hands of foreign capitalists, Powderly thinks ominous of impending danger, and cites the recent crisis in France as an example of monarchical interference in republican institutions. He argues that the Government can do the telegraphing of the country as successfully as it does the mail carrying, and ridicules the idea that it would amount to anything as a political factor, because, as he says, there are only about 17,000 telegraphers in the United States.

BASE BALL.

Meeting of the Association—Officers Elected.

CINCINNATI, December 8.—The American Base Ball Association to-day re-elected Wheeler Wyckoff secretary, and Chris. Von Der Ahe, of St. Louis, as president.

A rule of agreement was adopted with the exception of a rule to have two substitutes on the bench at each game, which was rejected for the association, but consent was given for its adoption by the league if wanted.

The rule proposing to count on balls as a factor in earned runs was recommitted.

The report of the umpire committee was approved and additions made to it that no umpire can be suspended without concurrence of at least four clubs and he shall have an opportunity to make a defense.

A TRUST BETRAYED.

Harper's Secret Correspondence Exposed.

HIS "BRIGHT ANGEL'S" REPLY.

Three Checks Aggregating $700,000 Handed to the District Attorney.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

CINCINNATI, December 8.—The Enquirer this morning prints fac-simile cipher letters, which it says were furnished by Charles Hopkins, son of Assistant Cashier Ben. E. Hopkins. They purport to be letters sent by Harper to Miss Josie Holmes, his former exchange clerk. It is explained that after the failure Harper professed the warmest friendship for his assistant cashier, Hopkins, and promised to do everything that could be done to shield him. Young Harper was corresponding kind to Harper, and became his messenger to carry letters to and from Miss Holmes. While in this office he began to suspect that Harper was arranging to shift upon Hopkins the responsibility of all transactions with grain brokers, and young Hopkins, to place Harper in his power, conceived the bold design of concealing the letters and delivering verbal messages only.

THE TREACHERY DISCOVERED.

This worked well enough until Miss Holmes visited the jail. Harper was furious upon learning the treachery of his messenger, and has since been cold toward Hopkins. Harper also sent three checks to Miss Holmes which Hopkins suppressed and turned over to District Attorney Barnes. They aggregated $700,000, and it is presumed they were intended to be placed so as to cover up some of the crooked transactions with the bank. In the first letter Harper instructs Miss Holmes about the trial.

WHAT SHOULD SHE DO!

As to her testimony in the Harper trial Miss Holmes answered, saying that she would be evasive as she could, but feared she could not testify as he wanted her to. She said he had made a botch sending H to see her, and asked him why he did not go when he had a chance. She asked him to send her a lawyer to advise her how to testify.

HARPER'S REPLIES.

To this Harper replied with mad protestations of love for his "bright angel and upbraided her for her coldness, and especially for the cold suggestion that he should have flown. In one of her notes Miss Holmes said to Harper: "Your wife has three million dollars. I have nothing now to do but die, with your family disgracing me as they have done in the last two two days."

The Trial.

In the Harper trial to-day Hayes finished his testimony and the Government rested the case. The Court adjourned till to-morrow to allow the defense to prepare for the opening. Four counts of fifty-five indictments were ruled out by the Court for being improperly drawn. It is stated that unsuccessful efforts were made to-night to bribe Charley Hopkins to secrecy. The latter says that he has other letters of Harper's that have not been published.

GOOD FOR COMMERCE.

Reduction of Freight Rates by the D. & R. G.

SALT LAKE, December 8.—The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad Company to-day issued a new freight tariff sheet, making a reduction of about 20 per cent. on all classes of freight between the Missouri river and Utah points, from the 12th inst. Iron dealers and agricultural implement men are greatly benefited by the reduction, the former having rates reduced from $1.50 per 100 pounds to $1.30, and the latter from $1 50 per ton to $1.25. Rates are reduced in order to allow Salt Lake merchants to compete with the Northern Pacific and Montana rates into Montana. The new rates between here and California are 85½ per cent. of the new rates between Missouri river points and Utah.

Nevada City News.

NEVADA CITY, December 8.—The fair grounds and buildings of the Seventeenth District Agricultural Association, situated at Glenbrook Park, near this city, were sold at sheriff's sale to-day to satisfy a mortgage of $6000.

Attempt to Kill.

Last night at 11:30 o'clock a negro named G. W. Baker shot and attempted to kill Charles Williams at No. 355, New High street, over a game of cards. The ball entered the right arm just above the elbow and passed out on the inside without striking the bone. Officer Marden took both men to the jail.

DAILY HERALD.

GRETTIE ROZELLE.

Testimony for the Prosecution Closed.

MEDICAL OPINIONS GIVEN.

The Jury to Visit the Room of the Defendant Some Time To-day.

At 10 A. M. yesterday Judge Cheney's Court was more crowed, if possible, than on Wednesday. The examination of Mr McGregor on cross-examination was continued.

I had two interviews with both Mr. and Mrs. Rozelle. I wrote down the interviews in full. (Witness here produced the original notes, and read from them, which were to the same effect as the witness's examination-in-chief.)

It took me perhaps an hour to make the interview. I am acquainted with Mr. Rozelle, but never was an intimate acquaintance of his. At the time of the interview Mrs. Rozelle said she was very much excited, and after throwing the vitriol ran up and down the stairs three or four times, and once, when she went down, saw Petrie and Gibson. I wrote the article which appeared in the HERALD, using my notes as a basis and drawing on my memory.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION.

I showed Mrs. Rozelle the article published in the HERALD. (A copy of the HERALD of May the 12th. 1887, was here introduced and identified by the witness as the one containing the interview.)

Objected to by the defense as irrellevant. Objection sustained for the season that the witness had already testified to the same facts).

In taking the interview Mr. Rozelle frequently corrected himself, and I had to go back and change my notes.

DR. H. S. ORME

being called testified: I am a physician. I am President of the State Board of Health. I know Chas. Petrie attended him on May 11th, 1887. He came to my office. He was suffering from the effects of acid and was experiencing the most excrutiating pain. His face was swelling very fast. When I came in Dr. Ross was applying oil with a brush. The acid was so strong as to eat up several brushes.

I next visited him at the private hospital, 215 South Olive street. I attended him for two weeks. I supposed he would be badly marked for life, but our treatment was more successful than we had hoped, hence, the marks are not bad. The action of sulphuric acid combined with water is very severe; the acid having a very strong affinity for water, There would be a difference in the effect of the acid if poured or thrown or dashed upon a person's face. If poured it would leave a mark indicating a more gentle application; if dashed it would leave marks indicating a violent and spattered appearance.

(Mr. Petrie was here brought in as an exhibit, and Dr. Orme asked to indicate on his face what was the appearance of the marks on his face at the time he was called to attend him). Objected to by defense. Objection overruled.

As represented by the doctor, the indications were that it had been poured.

The vitrol was not in spots on his face, but in streams and streaks.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Water is more diffusive than vitrol, and, consequently, the latter would not scatter as much as water if thrown in the face. If a handkerchief, wet in water, should be used to wipe off vitrol after applied to the face, I do not think it would lessen very much the effect of the acid, but might spread it. Water will dilute sulphuric acid, and, of course would, when diluted with it, neutralize its effects. (Mr. Petrie was again introduced as an exhibit). If I had never seen Mr. Petrie before, I think I would know he had received vitrol or such acid in the face (The doctor here pointed out the scar covering a portion of the forehead, the nose, left eye and chin.) There are many acids which would have the same effect if applied to the flesh. Sulphuric acid is the chemical name for vitrol. If water is combined with this acid there is a tendency to combustion and chemists have to exercise care in diluting it.

DR. W. W. ROSS

testifiied: I live in this city and have practiced my profession over ten years. I saw Petrie in May, in Hinzeman's drug store, on Main street. He saw me and said "For God sake do something for me." He was suffering from the effects of acid which had been applied to his face. It was an acid that was on his face. The outer portions of the skin were corroded and eaten up. I used several camel hair brushes, the acid eating them very fast. The acid was principally on the left side of the face. It seemed to have run down from the forehead. It had left a well-defined track, commencing a little to the right of the centre of the forehead and running to the left. If water is applied to acid it generates great heat, and if dashed on the face after the acid was placed on it, would cause it to burn more. If the acid had been dashed it would have been more diffused. It seemed to have been poured.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

The tendency of sulphuric acid would be to adhere together, while water would be more easily diffused, but if either were dashed or thrown they would be diffused. In going through the air it would be separated. I think if acid was poured on the face and water quickly applied, the water would carry sufficient acid with it to eat clothing after leaving the face. If acid were thrown upon the forehead perpendicularly the tendency would be to scatter and mark the face in blotches. I have acted as a physician for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, but Mr. Petrie paid his own bills.

Recess until 2 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

Robert Farrell, being sworn, testified: I am employed on the HERALD. I know Mrs. Rozelle by sight. I went to the county jail the next day after the article relative to the trouble, was published in the HERALD. I asked Mrs. Rozelle if the article was correct. She replied it was, with the exception of her having said that during the struggle her mind was on the vitriol all the time. I went there to interview them and to satisfy my own curiosity. I was introduced as a reporter.

The next witness called was

DR. KIMBALL,

Who, not answering to call, an attachment was issued returnable forthwith, which necessitated a delay of half an hour: I am an oculist and aurist, also a surgeon. I was summoned to see Mr. Petrie on the afternoon of the 11th of May. Dr. Ross was making an application of oil and other remedies to his face and eyes. I knew from the appearance of the face that some caustic irritant had been applied. He had a round spot on the forehead, and from there one or two streaks down the face. The worst one was from the spot down over the left eye. Both eyes were affected but the left quite dangerously. It appeared to me that the acid had been placed on the round spot on the forehead and run from there down over the face. He was under my treatment for about two weeks. I feared his left eye was in a dangerous condition; the tissue was very much broken and swollen. The acid over the cheeks appeared to have come from the forehead.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Dr. Ross was present when I made the examination of his eyes. I made an examination of his face and eyes after he was taken to the hospital. There was a redness over the entire white of the eye. It might have been the fumes of the acid which affected it as it is very caustic. I think a little of the acid went into the right eye, as it was burned. There was more marks on the right side of the face than the left.

The prosecution closed with the examination of the last witness.

Upon motion by Colonel Wells that the jury be allowed, in company with the Sheriff, to visit the room occupied by the defendant, and a statement that they had been surprised by the brevity of the evidence on the part of the prosecution, and that the defense was not ready with their witnesses, an adjourment was taken at 3:15 P. M. until 10 A. M. this morning. The jury will be conducted to the Rozelle's room to-day.

A LUNCH ROOM.

Circular Issued by the Flower Festival Society.

The managers of the Flower Festival Society have issued the following circular:

The basement of the Woman's Home on Fourth street has just been converted into a large and commodious dining hall, kitchen and closets. The Home is filled to overflowing with those who need its protection; many applicants are in waiting, if perchance a vacancy occurs, and will be received in the order in which the applications are made. The Woman's Exchange, which has taken such high rank on account of its beneficient work, has been, and is still conducted in the home building. When it is remembered that out of the $500 worth of goods sold, $450 goes to the consignors and only $50 to the society, it is not difficult to gain an idea of the good accomplished.

The lunch-room department is a new feature, and a feature introduced solely in the interest of dependent woman, of any age, married or single. The best soups, breads, salads, coffee (with cream), tea, cake, pies, fruit and all articles which go to make up good lunches, will be served. All who need to help themselves, or to help those dependent upon them, can have an opportunity of disposing most profitably of first-class articles of food. We do not alone offer to purchase the food supplied, but will be glad to teach, or have taught by those most competent, any who desire to know how to prepare the articles of food which we shall daily need in our lunch-room. We hope every lady or gentleman in our community, who knows of needy women, will advise them to communicate with us immediately. Let any woman who desires to become a consignor to our lunch-room, address Mrs. F. W. Wheeler, personally, at the home, or if to communicate by letter, address Mrs. F. W. Wheeler, 25 East Fourth street lunch-room.

The ladies propose giving a grand opening on Tuesday, December 13, 1887, from 11 A. M. to 3 P. M. Lunch will be served each day after the 13th, between the same hours.

Let our friends come and see us on the 13th, and we feel very sure we shall see them, if not daily, very often.

DESERVES A DIPLOMA.

An Enormous School from Which no one Likes to Graduate.

Life is a sort of school which nobody seems anxious to graduate from and when it is known how easy it is to prolong life, and save your wives and daughters, mothers and sisters, a vast amount of suffering thirteen times a year, why should you hesitate to act at once in the matter? "How changed! I would not have known you." These words sometimes are addressed to one changed by time or disease, but in those rare cases where an invalid hears them by reason of her improved appearance and restored health they are truly grateful. Mrs. J. W——, wrote from Kansas, to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, after using her Vegetable Compound for a trouble peculiar to women: "I am happy to state, that your medicine has wrought a great change in me, so much so that friends who saw me for the first time since I began your treatment, hardly knew me on account of my changed looks."

An Important Feature of Southern California.

The most charming hotel in Southern California is situated—much to the advantage of Los Angeles—at Santa Monica, and is called the Hotel Arcadia. Every advantage of ocean and land view has been grasped by the architect of this modern caravansary.

Its natural advantages are climatic and scenic. The days and nights are warm, the temperature changing but little in the twenty-four hours. On the ocean side of the hotel, in the sun rooms, the temperature is from 75 to 80 degrees. At present writing, on the land side, on the ranchos, it is from 67 to 72. Hundreds of people bathe daily in the open sea, the beach being one of the most celebrated surf beaches in America. The beach stretches for miles along the shore, and the drive on the beach, as well as to the canyons and along the hill sides, is picturesque and enjoyable.

The hotel itself is a model of comfort and elegance. We have but to mention a few of the advantages to give our readers an idea of its conveniences. It contains a steam elevator, gas, electric bells, hot and cold water, hot salt water baths in the house, surf bathing within twenty yards of the house, 600 feet of wide covered porches surrounding the house, as well as the sun porch which is a feature for invalids. Not an inside room in the house. The dining room and parlors overlook the ocean. The house is elegantly furnished and the service and table have no superior anywhere. It is indeed one of the few all round year resorts in the world.

Three trains by the Southern Pacific Railroad are run to and from Santa Monica daily, and at such hours as will accommodate persons who wish to do business in Los Angeles and enjoy the comforts of the above described locality of the Hotel Arcadia.

THE NEW ARCADE DEPOT.

A grant of land 300x1900 feet, fronting Alameda street, between Fourth and Sixth streets, has been made by the owners to the Southern Pacific Railroad on the specific contract on the part of the Railroad, with the signature of its President, the Hon. Leland Stanford, that it shall at once erect and maintain IN PERPETUITY THEIR PRINCIPAL PASSENGER DEPOT on this property. The contract on the part of the Railroad Company is being faithfully executed. Side-tracks and switch privileges have been granted by the Honorable Board of Common Council and have been constructed. Work on the Depot foundation is in progress and will be completed by December 1st.

Mr. Arthur Brown, the Architect and Superintendent of Construction of Del Monte Hotel, Monterey, states that he turns over to the Company that new Hotel on Thanksgiving Day, at the dedication of that structure. At once thereafter the force of mechanics will be transferred to this work. The ground plans and elevations of this Depot, one of the finest in the world, are now on view at our office. The building will be 507 4-12 feet long and 141 feet wide; the main approach and entrance being Fifth street and Wolfskill avenue, the trains entering the Depot from Alameda side. The building will be constructed of brick, stone, iron, glass, and fittings in natural wood, and will be one of the finest structures of the kind in America, being completed with every convenience for the traveling public.

SPECIAL NOTE.—We have placed the opening schedule of prices at a minimum figure and about one-half of quotations for adjacent properties. These prices will be maintained for a SHORT TIME ONLY, and we shall advance the schedule as improvements progress. The first increase will be from 10 to 20 per cent.

IMPROVEMENTS ON THE PROPERTY.

All the streets leading from the center of the city are now being opened, with continuation of official lines of main thoroughfares maintained. Gravel work already done on Fifth street, and contracts for stone walks let, with work under way, being but the beginning of vigorous work on all streets and avenues of a same character. The original zanja through the property all being piped.

All the Street Car Lines have applied for franchises to approach the Station, which are being granted, and the owners are in full accord with all public privileges by the Honorable Board of Common Council. There are already constructed through the property and tracts laid: The Central Avenue Line and Third Street Line; franchises having been granted on Fifth street and Fourth street under an express clause in the franchise that work shall commence as early as practicable. This virtually places all car lines in direct connection with this principal Depot.

We take pleasure in presenting this magnificent property to investors of all classes, and feel sure it cannot fail to commend itself for the advantages it possesses. For availability to the business center, combined with the fact that the schedule of prices is about one-half of that placed on any property in the vicinity.

SUDDEN DEATH

Of a Blacksmith at Rose's Camp.

An inquest was held last night by Coroner J. M. Meredith on the body of an unknown man, aged about 45 years, found dead yesterday. The testimony produced at the inquest was as follows:

Willie Polk stated—I am a laborer and reside in Los Angeles; I have known the deceased about a week, but do not know his name. One day when I returned home from work my wife told me had been bleeding; I worked with him occasionally; this morning after breakfast the deceased went to work at the forge; I went there also and talked with him; I afterwards left, and when I returned I missed him, and was told by Mr. Rose that the deceased had been bleeding; I went to the camp to look for the deceased; I found him sitting in the closet, and at his feet a pool of blood; he was dead and then I notified Mr. Rose.

William Rose testified: I reside at Ballona and am a contractor. I have known the deceased about six days. Last Friday morning I employed him at my camp as a blacksmith. He worked up to this morning. He ate his breakfast and went to work this morning. I saw him going to the closet spitting blood. I saw a lot of blood around the blacksmith forge. I went to where my men were working, and shortly afterward my colored man came to me and told me the deceased was dead in the closet. He told the colored woman who cooks for the camp that his name was Blaine. He never complained of being sick. I think he bled some last Monday morning and said it was not the first time that he had bled.

Dr. I. E. Cohn testified: I reside in Los Angelos and am a practicing physician and surgeon. I made a post mortem examination upon the body of a man this 8th day of December, 1887. Found no external marks of violence. Man about 5 feet 8 inches in height; dark hair, beard and mustache; gray eyes; well nourished. Internal examination showed all organs healthy except lungs, which show congestion and tuberculosis.

MORE MONEY NEEDED.

For the Erection of an Adequate Government Building.

At the last session of the United States Congress an appropriation of $150,000 was made for the purpose of constructing a government building, and fearing that the amount so appropriated was not sufficient to erect an adequate building the Board of Trade yesterday adopted the following resolutions, which will be forwarded to Washington:

ROOMS OF LOS ANGELES BOARD OF TRADE,
LOS ANGELES, Cal., December 8, 1887.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Board of Trade, held Tuesday, December 5th, 1887, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States at its session of 1887-87, passed a bill appropriating the sum of $150,000 for the purchase of ground, and the erection of a government building thereon, to be located in this city; and

WHEREAS, From the entire amount appropriated the sum of $28,500 must be deducted for the purchase of the ground, leaving therefore only $121,500 for the erection of the building; and

WHEREAS, In view of the fact that said building is to be built for the accommodation of all the United States offices in this city, to wit: the Postoffice, United States District Court, Internal Revenue Office and others; and

WHEREAS, In view of the wonderful growth of this city, said appropriation is not, in our judgment, sufficient to construct a building large enough for our present needs, and certainly not for our future requirements. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Treasury in procuring plans for said Government building, be, and he is hereby respectfully and very earnestly requested to have them drawn for a larger and more commodious building than we fear is now in preparation, or that the Department has in view.

Resolved, That while at this time this Board is not desirous of making any recommendations as to the amount of money that should be appropriated for the erection of the building, we desire to say that, in our opinion, the sum should be not less than $300,000.00.

Where Is Our Seaport.

It has been the general impression of our people that we had at San Pedro and Wilmington a harbor commodious and already accessible to coasting vessels, which in the slow but sure way of our Government engineers, under the parsimonious policy which has at all times characterized Congressional action towards Pacific coast interests, has been in process of development into a safe port capable of receiving and sheltering at its docks deep-sea vessels from all the world.

The report of Colonel Mendell, Chief of Engineers for the Pacific coast, a synopsis of which appeared in our telegraphic columns yesterday, does not encourage us in this belief, but very decidedly tends to upset the hopes of a deep-sea commerce at San Pedro, at least in the near future. We are therein told that as a haven for light-draft coasting vessels our Wilmington and San Pedro inlet is a success—that it has a very large coasting trade conducted in this class of vessels, and that foreign deep-sea vessels are attracted here, but that they are obliged to anchor far from shore, so that commerce is taxed by the onerous burden of lighterage from the anchorage without the harbor to the wharves within. And that in the absence of very large expenditures for improvement this must continue to be so. Indeed, the dispatch makes out almost a hopeless case against the improvement; but we are told that further examinations are recommended.

At the same time Colonel Mendell points out that, allowing for differences in grades to be overcome, as well as for actual mileage, San Pedro has an advantage equivalent to being 800 miles nearer controlling points in the East than is San Francisco; and also very decided advantages, in the way of lighter gradients and shorter and more direct routes in its railway approaches, over San Diego. But, recognizing in San Diego harbor a haven capable of accommodating a large commerce of every class of vessels, he doubts the advisability of attempting at San Pedro to make a port for deep-sea vessels. The synopsis of the report to which we have drawn attention is very significant and we recommend our merchants to read it again carefully.

Colonel Mendell very calmly contemplates the prospect of there being no seaport between San Francisco and San Diego, 600 miles—as far as from Portland, Maine, to Baltimore perhaps. But we do not believe that the people of Los Angeles realizing the very decided geographical advantage over San Francisco and topographical advantage over San Diego, with which the Chief Engineer accredits us, are going to be set in the back country, because our hydrographic advantages at San Pedro are not as good as they might be.

What! Not bring ship and car together at any point between San Francisco and San Diego? THE HERALD is not inclined to accept this conclusion. We are something of a prophet ourselves, and we foresee that our frisky little neighbor near the Mexican border, notwithstanding her quiet wire-pulling of the past few years, while Los Angeles merchants have been too busy to look around them, will not have Los Angeles for a back country.

Just at this juncture our Board of Trade should step to the front and lose no time nor trick in securing proper governmental attention of the resources for deep-sea commerce which our coast may possess. What would the people of the East say if they had no harbor receiving attention for 600 miles of coast; no ship and car together from Maine to Georgia? The idea for our coast, alas, is preposterous, and we won't accept it.

Because rottenness is core-uption.

Legal Veal.

Much comment is current on the city election. The newspapers are nearly alone in this discussion. None of the defeated candidates are moving in the matter. No elector of the municipality has taken any steps toward questioning the results. We had hoped the matter would subside like a muddy rill after a half hour's shower. Our Republican contemporaries, some of whom were terribly defeated in their candidates, still harp upon this daughter of confusion. Some of the progeny of Dogberry, who scribble for their columns, try to disable the information and judgment of the writer by a glittering generality about "Cyclopedias bound in calf." With reference to this Dogberry clique, the question is taken up again for the purpose of filling them to repletion with legal veal.

The section of the political code touching this matter of the election is number 1160. It provides that the polls shall be opened at one hour after sunrise, and close at sunset, and that they shall be kept open all the intervening time. The session of the legislature of this year passed an act amending this section so as to read:

The polls must be opened at six o'clock of the morning of the day of election, and must be kept open until seven o'clock of the evening of the same day, when the polls shall be closed.

The annotations in the code refer to numerous authorities to the effect that any irregularity in these matters does not vitiate the election, unless it is shown that by such deviations from the law the results of the election have been changed. As a matter of fact the polls opened and closed at the hours prescribed by the old law. On this the question is raised as to the validity of the election.

Thus then the question stands: The election is held. The returns are before the City Council. It is their duty to canvass them, and to declare the results. On this showing the Clerk must issue certificates of election to those receiving a majority of the votes cast. On these certificates the members will take the seats to which they were elected. That is how the matter will end by any course pursued.

But suppose there is to be a contest, who should make it, and before whom? If a defeated candidate, as such, moves in the matter, he must do it before the body to which he alleges he might have been elected, and the onus probandi is on him. That is, he must show that had the polls been opened and closed at the legal hours, this would have so changed the vote in his individual case that he would have been elected. That proof will have to be full and positive. But there is no such point raised by any one. No sane person will make such allegation. Therefore this disposes of all contest from that quarter. Before dismissing it, however, it may be proper to set the progeny of Dogberry right on another matter. Were such a method of contestation possible, that would have to come before the new Council—not the present members. Before such an issue could be raised the old Council will be dead as mutton.

How, then, may a contest be made? Any elector of the municipality may do so on a writ of quo warranto. This is an order of the court—we are writing for laymen—to make the Council show by what authority it counts the vote. The allegation of the contestant would be that no election had been held; that the opening and closing of the polls at the legal hours was a material issue, of the essence of the election, and that the violation of this part of the statute vitiates the whole proceedings and leaves the election as null as if there had been none held. Then the matter goes to the courts to decide this point of law. Mark, unless such a step is taken by some elector, the Council must canvass the vote and declare the results.

Now, to the law. If such proceedings are entered upon, the courts will as certainly declare the election to be valid and sufficient as anything on earth is certain. Before citing the authorities on these points, however, it may be well to remark that should no elector raise this issue, and should the new council sit and act during their term of office, there need not be the least misgiving as to their acts being upheld by the courts. They will be de facto officials, if nothing more, and as such will have the same authority as if there had not been one jot of informality about the election.

The authorities for so holding are: Ohio State Reports, volume 19, page 29.—the court speaks. "It is, no doubt, the intention of the legislature that the polls should remain open during the entire day of election, between the hours specified in the statute for opening and closing; and good policy, as well as the convenience of the voters, would seem to require that this legislative intent should be observed. But the closing of the polls for an hour or so during that time is not, in law, sufficient to invalidate the elections and disfranchise the voters who did deposit their ballots in the boxes. The statute in this respect may be regarded as directory, and a departure from the strict observance of its provisions does not invalidate the election, where it appears that no fraud has been practiced, and no substantial right violated."—Fry vs. Booth. Precisely our case.

In McCrary on elections (second edition) pages 125 and 126, we read: "As to the time of the election, of course the day cannot be changed even by the consent of all the voters, and the general rule is, that if the polls are not open for as many hours as the law directs, and if legal voters in numbers sufficient to change the result, or to render it doubtful, are thereby deprived of the privilege of voting, the election must be set aside. several hours delay will render the the election void if the party complaining can show that he has been injured thereby." The same authority further tells us: "If the statute expressly declares any particular act to be essential to the validity of the election, or that its omission shall render the election void, all courts who duty it is to enforce such statute, must so hold." Again, at pages 142 and 143 we are instructed by this eminent authority thus: "I appears that a statute requiring that the polls shall be opened at sunrise and kept open until the setting of the sun, is so far directory that before a election can be set aside, because of deviation from the statute in this respect, it must be shown that legal voters were excluded who would have voted had the polls been kept open. A slight deviation from the direction of the statute in this respect, will not render void the election, unless it is fraudulent, and operates to deprive legal voters of their rights."

Once more from page 144 we quote "In the absence of a provision in the statute expressly declaring that a neglect to open or close the polls at the hours specified vitiates the election, unless it is shown that by this deviation the result has been affected, it will be disregarded. If the deviation from the legal hours is not very great the presumption will be that it has not affected the result, and the burthen will be upon him who attacks the validity of the election, and he must show affirmatively the contrary."

In the New York Reports, Vol. 8 in the case of The People vs. Cook, on a writ of Quo Warranto, at pages 67, 68, 69, it is set forth: "Where the pleadings raise a question of fraud in relation to the acts of a board of public officers, and the evidence on trial goes only to show an irregularity without fraudulent intent, the court cannot submit it to the jury as an open question." "The rules for conducting an election contained in the statutes, are intended to afford all citizens an opportunity to exercise their right to vote, to prevent illegal voting, and to ascertain with certainty the true number of votes cast, and for whom. These are directory, and not mandatory in their character. The provision of the statute as to time of OPENING AND CLOSING the polls is DIRECTORY.

One might fill a whole newspaper with decisions just as pat as the above. And the lawyers know this. There is not one able lawyer in the city who will dispute these points. There is not a court in the State which will not uphold them.

Dogberry's Election Arguments.

"Look on this picture and then on that." Above is the meal of legal veal from calf-bound cyclopedias to fatten the lean brains overshadowed by the Dogberry ears. Here is how the lineal decendant of that ancient worthy proves a point:

It was of course known to the Tribune on Monday night that there were grave doubts whether the election held on that day was legal.—[Tribune Editorial, Dec. 7.

After all, it was thought by a number of legal gentlemen that there might be a way out of the difficulty; and hence we decided to be last, in this one instance, to pronounce the election a failure.—[Same.

But the present is another case entirely; and now that we all know the exact situation, let us all laugh over this miscarriage of our election labors, for it is rather a laughing matter than anything for men to cry about. [Same.

The law is imperatively mandatory, and as it was not obeyed in the election of Monday in this city, all lawyers and all sensible people concede that it is as though no election had been attempted to be held.—[Same.

What is to be done? Some men learned in the law and experienced in public business are convinced that nothing can be done. And yet we are not to be left without a city government.—[Same.

We are inclined to adopt the opinion of the most, that there is no remedy for the embarrassments under which this city is laboring, in consequence of the oversight of the corporation clerk and of the various campaign committees in respect of the time of opening and closing the polls.—[Same.

A case should be made up at once, with a view to obtaining the judgment of the courts. In either of two ways that can be done, aggrieved citizens can apply to have the Council enjoined from canvassing the election returns. Or some persons, who may take the opposite view, may sue out a writ of mandamus to compel the canvassing by the Council of the returns.—[Same.

But that which is the opinion, hastily formed and off-hand, of the people generally, may not be sound after all, and may, too, be corrected by the courts, upon a full hearing of the whole case.—[Same.

On reflection, it must strike every one as strange, and not only strange but unjust, that the entire results of an orderly and fair election can be absolutely lost through a slight clerical error that did not demonstrably have any effect on the story told by the ballot-boxes.—[Same.

It appears to be the accepted opinion that all the expense of the election, and the entire voting force of the people, has been thrown away. This may, of course be the true state of the case. Such it probably is.—[Same.

Perhaps a shorter way would be for the aldermen and other elective officers whose terms have expired to resign and it make possible to hold a special election.—[Same.

There would have to be several resignations to take effect at different dates in order that a quorum be maintained in the Council.—[Same.

But that could be managed. It would be inconvenient to hold a series of ward elections for aldermen, but even that might be better than to continue for two years under a city legislature that has no warrant that would perfectly satisfy any one.—[Same.

Now there is an argument in long-eared law, "as is an argument." Fog-enveloped readers do not come here to ask what conclusion is reached. Ask that from some of the progeny of Dogberry, "and when found make a note on it."

The Council being without official knowledge of any informality or illegality in the election, we conceive that they have but one duty in the matter: that is to go ahead next Tuesday, canvass the vote, and declare the result. If any one has sufficient interest in the seat of any one of the various officers-elect, or in all of them, to institute a contest in the courts, or elsewhere, that is his right and privilege. As the matter stands now, however, we cannot see that the Council has any other duty or course in the matter, but canvass the returns and declare the result.

So far as the legality of the acts of the Council so constituted is concerned, there can be no doubt. The Council is the judge of the election and qualifications of its own members. Should it seat a man who had not received a dozen votes in the place of a man who had received a thousand, while it would be an act of injustice, it would not invalidate the acts of that body. In this instance the seating of the successful candidates would be an act of substantial justice, and while it would necessitate the swallowing of a very large technical error, we do not think it would create an illegal body.

Of all the ratiocination on this subject attempted in the Republican papers, the above from the Evening Express, is the only bit with any sense in it. This is sound reason.

JIM BLAINE, of Maine, is nothing if not ambitious. Defeated of being President by the will of the sovereign people, he is yet determined to perform a part of the Chief Magistrate's functions. Not being able to get an annual message before the people by the ordinary channel of Congress, he seeks the services of a "tramp" reporter over in Europe and so sends his annual State paper to his constituents, the disgruntled minority of the American people. And the message of him of the white plume is not so bad either. It is quite an able piece of special pleading. Perhaps since that other defeated leader of defeated hosts stood upon the murky smoke in his new found home, after the great battle for right had been fought in Heaven, no such piece of special pleading has been given to overthrown contestants to solace them in their woes. Certainly, like Belial the flamboyant politician of the Pine Tree State can make the "worse appear the better reason" with quite plausible fallacies. Poor Blaine! Poor Jim! Sorry you had to get your message out by the back door!

No, nor, neither does the failure of the Board of Supervisors to redistrict the city affect the election. The City Council districts the city as it pleases for a municipal election. The precincts for a State or county election do not necessarily, and do not generally, conform to those used for a city election. Bring on more Dogberrys.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL JOHNSON of this State, is of the opinion, that our School Bond issue is perfectly legal. There is no doubt of it.

To Eastern Visitors.

Tourists, Eastern visitors, and persons resident in this section should send all their old friends at their old homes a copy of the

ILLUSTRATED HERALD.

This publication contains 48 pages of the most carefully prepared statistical and descriptive matter about all matters of interest in Southern California. The pages are profusely and beautifully illustrated with superb cuts of buil lings, scenes, etc., of the country. This medium will convey more information concerning us than any other e tant. It was specially prepared for the recent G. A. R. Encampment at St. Louis, and a vast number of the work was distributed there. A small number remains on hand at this office, and these are rapidly growing less. Come in and look at it.

We were highly amused at overhearing the following colloquy between two little girl-playmates, who ha l been separated a few days on account of the illness of one of them, amed Clara. Her friend Bessie remarked to her: "I am so glad to see you out again; I feared we should never play together again." Clara—"I was very sick Pa on was anxious to have a doctor, but mamma said she would rather try Dr. Frese's Hamburg Tea; and as soon as I began to take it I began to feel better. I am glad she gave it to me, for I think it is much nicer to take than the horrid medicine the doctor always gives us." Bessie—"Well, if that is so, I will ask my mamma to get some and have it in the house. I don't like doctor's stuff either."

W. O. Tuggle, LaGrange, Ga., writing about Darbys Prophylactic Fluid, says: "It is a priceless jewel as a disinfectant and deodorizer. My Wife states for the benefit young mothers that it is a valuable adjunct to the nursery." It is equa ly so to parents traveling with children. N t only is the Fluid invaluable as a deodorizer, but a few drops added to the water in bathing will remove all eruptions from the skin, chafing, etc., and greatly refresh and soothe.

This publication contains 48 pages of the most carefully prepared statistical and descriptive matter about all matters of interest in Southern California. The pages are profusely and beautifully illustrated with superb cuts of buildings, scenes, etc., of the country. This medium will convey more information concerning us than any other extant. It was specially prepared for the recent G. A. R. Encampment at St. Louis, and a vast number of the work was distributed there. A small number remains on hand at this office, and these are rapidly growing less. Come in and look at it.

GRAND RECEPTION

By Mr. and Mrs. John E. Plater

AT THE BAKER BLOCK.

Description of the Rooms, with a List of Those Present—A Society Event.

One of the most fashionable assemblages of the citizens of Los Angeles gathered last night at the rooms of Mrs. John E. Plater in the upper story of the Baker Block, on which occasion the hostess gave a reception and dance to her many friends. Early in the day preparations were made for the event and the stairway leading to the upper floor was canvassed. Later on the entrance to the rooms was handsomely decorated with flags, flowers, silks and satins and when the lights from the many jets in the hallway illuminated the scene the portals looked very inviting. The preparations for the entertainment of the guests were very elaborate and had not been entirely finished when night came on. At about 9 o'clock the street in front of the Baker block presented a very lively appearance. Carriage after carriage drove up and the occupants were ushered into the hall and up the stairways. Ladies in silks and satins, with diamonds flashing from their persons, disembarked from the vehicles and vanished up the stairway, from the view of the curious people who lined the sidewalk, anxious to catch a fleeting glimpse of those more fortunate than themselves. Upstairs everything was full of life and activity. Servants were hurrying hither and thither attending to the desires of the guests and others were busy in assisting the ladies to remove their wraps.

Almost the whole of the second floor of the Baker Block building, in which Mr. and Mrs. Plater occupy elegant and handsomely furnished parlors, was placed at the pleasure of the guests. All day Mr. Wm. S. Lyons and a couple of assistants were kept busy decorating the stairways, hall and a suite of commodious rooms in which refreshments were served. Mrs. Plater's private apartments were handsomely decorated. Among the many pretty and unique floral pieces were noted a Cupid bow of scarlet geraniums attached to a card entwined with smilax sprays, an arrow with spear-head of geraniums and a shaft feathered with rosebuds. A handsome horseshoe floral design graced the piano. Baskets of golden-hued marigolds and superb Duchess Barbrandit roses were supported by artistic flower-stands, while great balls of brilliant flowers swung pendant from the festoons of vines along the ceilings. The chandeliers were twined with sweet-scented honeysuckles and the mantle profusely draped in trailing vines of smilax and bright flowers.

The main hall and stairways were carpeted with snowy canvas, the walls decorated with flags, ropes of ivy, date and California palm leaves, and such a profusion of beautiful flowers as only California can produce. In every nook and corner were ferns, fuchas, begonias, heliotropes, tube roses, and rare tropical plants, all of which combined to make "sweet fragrance sweeter" and the happy hearts thrice happy as the merry dancers tripped to the cheery strains of music which lent its charm to the fair picture. The music for the seekers of pleasure was furnished by a full string band, and at eleven o'clock there were fully three hundred ladies and gentlemen indulging in the mazy waltz. It was nearly midnight when the guests were invited by Mrs. Plater to partake of light refreshments which had been provided. Among the many present were the following:

Miss Tulita Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. J de Barth Shorb, Miss Shorb, Lulilie Miles, Dr. and Mrs Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Wills, Capt. Wm. THE ELECTION.

Everybody Thinks that the Vote Should be Canvassed.

There was not so much talk on the street yesterday over the late election and the excitement in relation thereto seemed to be dying out. No ones opinion on the matter had changed and those who were interviewed had but one opinion, and that was that it was the duty of the Council to open the envelopes on Monday morning next and canvass the vote, and to declare which candidates received the greatest number of votes. This opinion is shared by the members of the Council and there will probably be but little discussion over the matter when the time comes. It is certain that the Council chambers will be crowded on Monday morning, for a large number of citizens have announced it as their intention to be present on that occasion.

MAYOR WORKMAN'S OPINION.

Mayor Workman was seen yesterday afternoon by a representative of the HERALD, and he stated that in his opinion there was but one way to proceed, and that was for the Council to go ahead and open the envelops and canvas the returns. The Council was not a judicial body and could exercise no functions but those of a legislative character. Its duty was plain, and he did not think any attempt would be made to act otherwise than in accord with the law.

A number of other people were seen by the reporter, but none had an opinion which was at variance with his.

DID NOT KNOW.

Rumor spread the story that G. W. Knox knew all the time about the violation of the statute in reference to the election, and that he had lain in ambush to spring it on the Democratic candidates should they prove successful. To settle this a HERALD reporter interviewed Mr Knox on this point, and he at once gave emphatic denial to the story. He says he not only did not know of the violation in the election just passed until after it was done, but not until then did he learn of this violation in the Board election. His opinion is that the elected members of the several bodies will be seated, and that their acts will be all right.

SWITCHMAN'S BALL.

A Large Attendance at Armory Hall.

The ball given last evening by the "Switchman's Mutual Aid Association of North America," in Armory Hall, was a very pleasant affair. The room was decorated in railroad style and everything moved on railroad time. They had their charter placed in the center of the rostrum anchored by links and pins. Over it was suspended an evergreen banner. On each side of the banner were two locomotive lights, and the room was lighted by sixty red, white and blue lanterns. The following were the committees:

Committee of arrangements—C. O'Bey, J. J. Foley, P. J. Lane, M. W. Higgins, T. P. Shire, Mr. and Mrs.

Reception committee—Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Fostering, Mr. and Mrs. George Klotz, J. Frazier, B. N. Daly and C. Sanborn.

Floor Managers—N. D. Porter, J. S Foley, H. Bosmer, H. Kerney, J. Griffin, A. J. Hogue, T. Bolan.

The committees all wore rosette badges, which were lettered by Mr. Proctor and were very handsome. Below is a partial list of names of those that were present:

"Natural Gas."

The company which in Natural Gas has been keeping the Opera House full all the week played to an excellent house last night. While of course the main thread of the piece is the same as on the previous nights, the company make many changes in mélange of songs. Selections from Erminie are among the most popular of those given. "When Love is Young," and the "Lullaby" are both well done. The company sing well, and this is the most attractive feature in Natural Gas. At the same time the fun lags not for a moment in any of the acts. In the second act when the three men give so many imitations of other troupes the action goes at a break-neck pace, and the "catchy" songs take like wild fire. The piece holds the boards all the week.

WINTER WEATHER.

A December Sunday in California.

FAIR ANAHEIM VIEWS.

Rich Plains, Snow-Capped Mountains and Eternal Sunshine all Combined.

A HERALD representative who usually works all days in the week, including Sunday, and all weeks in the year, including midsummer and the Christmas holidays, was in great luck last Saturday night. At least so he considered himself when told he might have a "day out" on Sunday. Thinking where he should go to squander his one holiday, Anaheim came into his head as a pleasant place to spend a day. Getting his Saturday nights work well up, and enlisting the interest of a collaborateur to do the rest, away he hied on the late train of Saturday. He found a solid train of four coaches full of people all agog for the south end of the county.

AT ANAHEIM.

Transferring himself from the train to the street car, the newspaper pleasure seeker found about twenty-five other tourists, commercial and otherwise, all bound with him for the Planter's hotel to interview mine host Mason and his cook, especially the cook. Next morning, refreshed and ready for the fray, the pencil-pusher awoke, betimes he did, and having performed his ablutions, external and internal—the latter if not in a cask of malmsey, yet outside of something pleasant—he stepped at last into the open air.

A GLORIOUS MORNING.

The warm glow of golden sunshine filled the sky and air, and bathed the land as genial as the loveliest day in June. The birds were all making the space sonorous with glad songs. The breezes of the zephyr's gentlest touch set the leaves of the orange groves just a tremble, and the golden spheres like the fabled apples of the Hesperides, glistened like gold amid the rich waxy sheen of the foliage.

RICH ANAHEIM.

Far southward spread the broad, rich plain embracing vineyards, orange groves, rich pastures, orchards—the most fertile and varied in its resources in the world. Some fifteen miles away the Pacific lay pulsating and gleaming in the golden sunlight, from his broad breast come these gentle winds loaded to repletion with life-giving ozone, pure, invigorating, health-restoring, youth-giving, as would have been the springs of eternal youth, had Ponce de Leon been able to find them.

THE EVERLASTING HILLS.

All around the north side of the valley the great mountains rose to grand heights, and on their world-old brows they lifted to the skies their snows of countless years. The sun lit up their ridges with such glorious brightness as the imagination pictures on the white heights of Paradise. The shadows slept in the valleys as peacefully as Bunyon's pilgrim saw them on the "Delectable mountains" in his progress to Heaven.

Indeed a more beautiful prospect never stretched before the eyes of man than the landscape which lay all around the rich old "mother colony" on the day in question. No spot even in this semi tropic paradise can boast of any more fascinating picture than was there presented. The rains had started the grasses. The orange groves were washed clean of dust, the roads were hard and clean, the temperature was of that absolutely perfect degree which makes life seem worth living for. Lowell asks:

"And what so perfect as a day in June."

The answer is last Sunday at Anaheim was as perfect as any day that ever rose out of the night in the "leafy month of June."

NOTES OF PROGRESS.

Things are stirring at Anaheim. The new railroad is graded through the town, across the wash, through Fullerton, west through Orangethorpe to the Coyote House, and will soon be up on the mesa shooting straight for the springs. The Hotel Del Campo contract is let to the Albrecht Bros., an Anaheim firm, and it will be finished in ninety days. Then Anaheim will have three fine hotels. The Sisters are waiting anxiously for a deed from the Dreyfus estate to their lots in order that they may proceed with the building of their academy. The Town Trustees are about to lay water pipes along Cypress street for a distance of several thousand feet. The water company is pushing things on their big reservoir.

A company of railroad contractors with a large force of men from Colorado is expected every day to go on with grading the railroad from Anaheim to Orange. This company will construct the big bridge over the Santa Ana river. Progress is reported on the proposed new road from Anaheim to the landing. Capitalists in San Francisco and Los Angeles have had their interest enlisted in the project. It is sure to go through at an early day. Its advantages to Anaheim will be very great. The Del Campo people are laying cement sidewalks along their tract, Center street is being graded, new houses are seen going up all around the town, and in the country up by North Anaheim and Placentia as well. The new hotel at Fullerton is nearly finished, and will soon be open to guests. Newcomers from the Western States are coming in rapidly and settling in the towns of Anaheim, in Fullerton, at Placentia and all around the country.

ANAHEIM TO THE FRONT.

The attractions of Anaheim and its vicinity are becoming well known. The pure climate, excellent soil, perfect drainage, absence of dust, abundance of water and such elements of the situation are getting to be well understood. Should people recognize the fact that property is held here at less than fifty per cent. of the prices held in other places, they see that as water seeks its level, the intrinsic value of lands at Anaheim will push prices up to the ranges of the other most eclectic spots in Los Angeles County, and that there will be a big day of reckoning with a large balance in favor of those who buy now.

Well, the new hotels at Anaheim and Fullerton will be finished soon, and when they are the newsgatherer will beg another day off, go to Anaheim and spend it pleasantly again. By the by, on Christmas eve Captain Keith will have a big rabbit hunt, perhaps that may be the day. Although the hotels will not be quite open yet, the novelty of the rabbit round up will do.

Fifty thousand dollars spent in perfecting the water system of the Porter Land and Water Co. at San Fernando, and an inspection will show that no system in the valley can compete with it. The company can give any amount desired. Go see for yourself. Office at San Fernando, or First and Spring, Los Angeles.

San Fernando defies competition in the citrus fruit lands. She defies anybody to find a scale bug in the valley or a finer climate anywhere. It would pay to go and see the old Mission, even if one does not want land. Recollect, water in quantities desired by purchaser guaranteed and shown to be already flowing.

Water is king in California. Strangers should beware of deception about this indispensable article. Citrus fruits can't be raised without it. Many sellers promise water but few can show it and guarantee it. The Porter Land and Water Co., First and Spring streets, invite inspection of their lands and water at San Fernando.

Excursion Trains Leave Los Angeles and Way Stations Dec. 30th.

THE HOTEL DEL CORONADO, CORONADO BEACH, SAN DIEGO COUNTY, CAL.

The magnificent building, of which the above illustration is a correct representation, covers 7½ acres, and is larger than any edifice of a similar character in the world. It is extremely difficult to appreciate its colossal proportions. No caravansary of the ancients or hostelry of modern times, can compare with it in extent or perfection of its arrangements, or can yield the same degree of comfort, elegance and refined enjoyment as it is prepared to furnish to its guests. It stands without a rival in the world—proudly overlooking the placid waters of the great Pacific, and impresses upon the mind of every beholder its grandeur, its immensity, and its magnificence as a structure. It is remarked by all who see it as one of the wonders of this wonderful age, and regarded as a credit to our great Commonwealth.

Progress and improvement have been almost limitless during the past quarter of a century. The marked changes that have been produced and the wonderful improvements that have been brought about by the use of steam, electricity, and other forces, have been of such magnitude that the world seems in that brief period to have entirely changed, so that the impossibilities of that time are accomplished now with the greatest ease. No department in life, however, has attained a higher degree of excellence than architecture has, or has kept so well up in the forward march, as may be witnessed in the very beautiful designs of modern structures, of which the above hotel is a most praiseworthy and highly creditable evidence. The style of architecture adopted in this enormoth hotel, is a grand conception, being a happy combination not confined to any particular age or school. While partaking largely of what is readily recognized as the Queen Anne style, it at the same time shows many of the quaint and formal features of the Elizabethan order of architecture. These styles have been improved, however, by being modeled so as to accord with the modern American idea of architectural symmetry and beauty—adorning the best of what has appeared before, irrespective of the age or school to which it belongs. Apart from the architectural splendor of the building, there is a winning fascination in the vicinity and its varied attractions, the purity of the atmosphere and the beauty of the view, which seems irresistibly to draw strangers and visitors to this point.

The building, which ranges from three to five stories in height is so admirably arranged that every bedroom is penetrated and warmed by the genial rays of the sun during some part of the day. The verandahs and porches facing the ocean are encased in glass, thus just the atmosphere desired can be obtained. The general form of the building is that of a parallelogram, and around a grand court 250x150 feet in size; and it is unequaled in splendor as it is in the space it occupies. Here the glorious sun has full play on the tender leaves of the rare exotics, on the white marble of the chaste statuary and on the cool and glistening waters which flow from the splendid fountains that adorn the grounds, which are planted with many beautiful varieties of ornamental shrubs and trees, including some of the most delicate tropical productions. In the appointments and furnishings of the rooms, there will be an artistic harmony observed in the color of the furniture and carpets to suit the various apartments for which they have been designed, and the whole building will be brilliantly lighted by incandescent electric lights. Each department will be so managed and the standard of perfection so nearly attained, as to satisfy the most exacting guest.

ME 3 The Following Shows the Area and Capacity of the Principal Rooms, which Number 750:

Seating Capacity of Dining Room, 1,000.

Coronado Heights.

The Pasadena of San Diego, and Charming Suburbs of Coronado Beach.

Look out for the Auction Saturday, December 31st.

To be conducted by the Pacific Land Bureau.

The grand plateau, situated about 4 miles south of Coronado Beach, where this new and delightful townsite is being laid out and the streets and avenues are now being planted and ornamented with trees, shrubs and evergreens, occupies, beyond comparison, the most eligible and the finest position to be found anywhere on the beautiful bay of San Diego or along the shores of our majestic ocean, the great Pacific. On this elevated and lovely location the young city can sit enthroned in splendor, overlooking all other suburban places. They can but look up in admiration, and must, perhaps gracefully, yield the palm and glory to this, the brightest gem of Southern California.

What lends additional grandeur to this scene of exquisite beauty is the framework of this uncommon picture, formed by the white and glistening sands of the seashore, and by the placid blue waters of the beautiful bay.

No dread need be felt there because winter is approaching; no death-dealing winds come there, and no intolerable cold. But the pure elixir of life constantly inhaled, presents to the invalid a new lease "FREE GRATIS."

Coronado Heights will stand at the head of the list of all seaside resorts for health, pleasure and beauty.

The grand and picturesque surroundings, together with the splendid facilities for the full enjoyment of bathing in the surf or still water, boating and fishing on the bay, gunning, and other recreations in the mountains, all add to the claim this locality is entitled to as one of the most pleasant and charming all-the-year-round, sea side resorts on the Pacific Coast. As the old Spanish Padre say of it:—"Esc es un lugar hermosisimo," "that is a most delightful place."

Coronado Heights,

PICTURESQUE AND ALTOGETHER LOVELY.

NEAR MOUNTAIN, BAY AND SHORE.

This magnificent townsite is the property of the Coronado Beach Company, under whose auspices it is being placed on the market. It will prove to be the grandest success of the day.

It will have three different means of communication—a motor line, a steamer and a fine turnpike road, besides the drive along the beach, a most charming one, which can be extended for a distance of some twenty miles.

Nearly 100 teams are now actively engaged in grading for the new motor line, three miles of which are already finished and the steel rails are being laid.

Trains will be running between Coronado Beach and Coronado Heights in a few days.

A new and handsome steamer will be running between Coronado Heights and San Diego, making regular and quick trips, long before January 1, 1888.

Water is being piped all over the plateau, which will bloom like a garden.

For the speculator it will prove to be the biggest bonanza of the present day, and for the homeseeker it will be a boon indeed.

Nature has done much for the Coronado Heights, the beauties of which captivate all who see them.

Look Out for the Auction Saturday, December 31st.

To be conducted by the Pacific Land Bureau.

For full information and further particulars, apply to the CORONADO BEACH CO., SAN DIEGO.

HESPERIA.

The Denver of California!

HESPERIA is located in San Bernardino County, on the main line of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway, and about 25 miles north of San Bernardino. The situation is most beautiful, the town being in the Hesperia Valley, surrounded by the San Bernardino Mountains on the south and the Hesperia Mountains on the north. The Valley is about 3000 feet above the level of the sea.

There is a great abundance of the finest quality of water. The Company has already spent upwards of $200,000, in perfecting its waterworks. Water is brought from a pure mountain stream eleven miles away, being conducted in a large canal cut through the rock in the mountain side and through seven miles of steel and iron pipes to the town. There is water enough to meet all requirements for a large city and for 100,000 acres of land beside. Lands have been set apart for the benefit of a school fund, and a schoolhouse is to be commenced at once. The company offers generous inducements for the building of churches. A complete system of sewerage has been begun. Capital for a bank has been fully subscribed. Work is to be at once begun upon many substantial residences and business blocks. Gas and electric light plants are to be put in by the company. A horsecar line and motor railway will be built by the company to run through the tract. A neat and attractive station is to be built. Beautiful parks and boulevards will be laid out. The principal business and residence streets will be paved, and cement sidewalks will be laid. A first-class weekly paper will be published at Hesperia, the initial number to appear early in December. All that intelligence, energy and capital can do to build up a town will be done for Hesperia. Hesperia combines the altitude scenery and commercial advantages of Denver, with the climate and soil of the best portions of Southern California. The development of water in this great valley marks a new era in the progress and growth of Southern California—extending its productions and planting a city whose future will be second to none in this part of the State. It will pay anyone to investigate the above statements of simple fact.

A Triple Alliance.

Unhappily for the wretched victim of their assaults, dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness are faithful allies. When one of these foes attack the system, the other two speedily follow in its wake and successively make their onslaught. Successively, but not successfully, if Hostetter's Stomach Bitters be used to repel the onset. The Bitters as easily extirpates these monsters as St. George is depicted in the act of doing to the dragon in the steel vignette upon the glass bottles which contain the medicine. Their flight, like their advance, is nearly simultaneous. Their mutuality destroyed, they precipitately retreat, leaving health master of the position and strongly entrenched by the Bitters. This grand fortifier is also a reliable bulwark against the insidious assaults of malarial disease, and stops the approach of rheumatism. It moreover relieves nervous complaints and imparts vigor to the weak.

For Sale.

DAILY HERALD.

PRINCE AND PERI.

Third Night of the Popular Paper Carnival.

IN AND OUT THE BOOTHS.

Admirably Arranged Tableaux—Harmonious Music—A Scene of Jubilation.

Last evening Hazard's Pavillion was crowded to its uttermost capacity. The number of people present was larger than on the opening night, and the character of the entertainment had materially improved, if such were possible, by the practice of the two previous evenings. Indeed the superior quality of the performance is remarkable considering the fact, that the participants are all amateurs. It would be difficult to find a professional troupe that could outshine them. The bearing of every person taking part in the tableaux is that of an experienced actor or actress.

The programme, excepting the tableaux, was similar to those of the previous night. The entrance of the king and queen was especially applauded, while the grand march received a perfect ovation. This feature of the entertainment cannot be too much praised, and every night many of the most prominent people of Los Angeles return to witness it. Colonel Vernon deserves the praise of every man, woman and child for having so skillfully gotten it up.

Every character represented is a perfect portrayal of the period in which the character required.

Many distinguished looking strangers were in attendance last night and their general verdict was that it "could not be beat in the East."

The crowds around the booths where fancy articles were offered for sale, were greater than those of Wednesday night and the receipts must have been larger, though the exact amount had not been ascertained when the audience took its departure. Wednesday night they amounted to over $350, the receipts from the ice cream booth alone being between $70 and $80.

THE BOOTHS.

In the issue of yesterday morning a description of all the booths was not given owing to the crowded columns of the paper, but those omitted them are given below. Continuing on to the right of the main entrance the visitor finds next to the Egyptian the candy booth, which is in charge of Mrs. I. S. Sherman. This booth always has a crowd around it, for the ladies in charge know good candy, and when they purchased it to sell selected the very best. The decorations are of red and white tissue paper arranged to represent large sticks of peppermint candy. The assistants were Miss Bertie Smith, Mrs. H. R. Duffin and Miss Mabel Snook, and Messrs. I. S. Sherman, Lou Sterns, Walter Rose and S. M. Picket. These gentlemen were most active in making good sales.

The Gypsy Booth, under the management of Mrs. F. W. Madden, of Chicago, as Gypsy Queen, is a marvel of excellence and artistic decoration. It is arranged to represent, in the rear of the counter, a cave with a tent in front of the entrance. The ceiling is of blue cotton, with gold stars, and the furniture is rustic. In the cave the visitor's fortune is told by the Queen, and it is sure to be verified. Mrs. Madden is assisted by Mrs. Isabelle Strong, Mrs. Cissy Knox, Mrs. Gibbons, Mrs. J. L. Spencer, Miss Laura Chevaun, Mrs. Julia Mattern, Miss Stella Nolce and Miss Madeline Baker. The male gypsies were Messrs. Wm. Baker, Harry Williams, H. B. Sullivan, Al. Hawthorne and Harry Deacon. Mrs. Strong, Miss Chevaun, Miss Nolce and Miss Baker took part in the gypsy dance and had for partners Messrs. Baker, Williams, Sullivan and Deacon. It is not necessary to again dilate upon the excellence of the dance as given by the above ladies and gentlemen.

Next to the gypsies' camp is the stage, and first on the right of the stage is the flower booth, in charge of Mrs. Wm Ferguson and Mrs. J. J. Woodruff, assisted by Miss Anna Smith, Miss Gussy Fox, Miss Etta Hiller, Miss May Pierce, Miss Flora Bradbury, Miss Rachael Happ, Miss Laura Munsey, Miss Marie Howes, Miss Monte Roberts, Miss Fields, Miss Daisy Austin, and Miss Cassie Muirine. These ladies have most artistically decorated their booth with paper and vines, the pillars supporting the roof being covered with pink tissue paper, with smilax twisted entirely around it. They have gentlemen's button-hole bouquets in natural and artificial flowers, also ladies' corsage bouquets of the same description. The roof of the booth is arranged to represent a canopy top.

Next to the floral, continuing toward the main entrance, is the Butterfly Booth, handsomely decorated with many pairs of beautiful butterfly wings. This booth is under the charge of Mrs. Hawksworth, aided by Miss Margaret Young, of Rochester, N. Y. The other assistant is Mrs. Norma Stahr, the lady who designed many of the most elegant costumes worn by the ladies of the carnival. The little butterflies were Misses Edith Young, Oliza Stuhr, Norma Stuhr and Nina Young. These little ladies were all dressed most tastefully and added much to the beauty of the entertainment.

As a neighbor the Butterflies have the Roman booth, representing the third century, under the management of Mrs. J. S. Bowe, of Marietta, O. It is handsomely decorated in white colors with marble pillars. Mrs. Sarah Dunham took the character of "Queen Zenobia" most successfully. Misses Jessie and Grace Pease, Miss Alice Loper and Mrs. W. O. Hatch represented lady captives. Two little children, Misses Dora Dunham and Daisy Carleton, represented white slaves. Mr. C. O. Franks represented the Gallic Emperor, while Mr J. S. Bowe took a like part for the Romans. The Emperor's slave was Mr. Frederick Pensand. The Roman officers in full Roman armor were Messrs. A. G. Sies, Kelly, Fred Wood, Aubertine, Heinman and F. H. Hood. Little Owen Stowe represented a "herald."

Next to the Roman, is the English booth, representative of the 14th century, in charge of Mrs. M. S. Rowell. It is decorated in rich colors with most luxurious furniture. The members of this booth are Miss Alice Whitney as "Queen Elizabeth," Dr. Casey as "Sir Walter Raleigh," Miss M. H. Budlong, Miss A. V. Denny, Miss Casey and Messrs. A. E. Little, S. M. Judson, W. C. Stone.

The Boston booth representing the Sixteenth century is next to the booth just described. It is elegantly decorated in charming colors. Mrs. F. L. Grosvenor is its able managers. The other occupants were: Mrs. Parish, as "Mary Queen of Scots." Maids of Honor, Mrs. Wm. A. Hancock, Miss Cora Durrel, Miss Bertha Calhoun and Miss Mitchell. The Booth of the Nineteenth century was elaborately decorated with red, white and blue paper. It was for the reception of the King and Queen and Count. Directly in front of the entrance is located the Paper booths, in charge of Mrs. Judge Dupuy. The Ice Cream booth is located in the second gallery and was described on the opening night.

The programme of the tableaux was as follows, and they were particularly enjoyed and applauded.

Schafer's Art Sale.

To-night, Saturday and Monday evenings, the 9th, 10th and 12th instant, there will be sold at Opera House Hall, on Main street, near First street, the finest collection of paintings ever exhibited here. They are the work of the well-known artist, Schafer, and consist of Yosemite Valley scenes, Oregon, Colorado, Utah, British Columbia and Washington Territory scenery, and painted from sketches taken directly from nature by the artist himself. They will be on exhibition, commencing this morning at 11 o'clock, until the end of the sale. Every adult attending the sale prior to 8 o'clock P. M. will receive a ticket, and after the sale there will be a drawing and twenty highly finished sketches will be given away. This is done in order to have all promptly on hand to open sale.

Another Runaway.

Yesterday morning a double team attached to a wagon ran away from the corner of Franklin and Spring streets, and collided with a cart. The wagon was overturned and the driver overthrown, but no serious damage done. Officer Arguello stopped the mad career of the horses.

The colored waiters can still be found at the Hotel Oxford and Stephenson House.

CONSUMPTION!

ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CATARRH,

And other diseases of the organs of respiration, treated by the

ANDRAL-BROCA SYSTEM OF MEDICAL INHALATION,

AND GENERAL TREATMENT

Catarrh of Nose and Throat.

I do not claim that I can cure every case of catarrh, but I do claim that my method will cure the large majority of cases after all other means have failed. The cure is permanent, as can be proven by cases which can be referred to, treated three years ago in this city, with no return of the disease. The fact is now admitted by the best medical writers that chronic catarrh is caused by the presence of living parasites, microscopical in size, in the tissues. The cut below shows these bacilli as they appear under the microscope, magnified 480 diameters.

Imagine millions of these animalculæ in the nose, throat and lungs, as well as the minute eustachian tubes leading from the back part of the throat to the middle ear and you will imagine the misery they can produce. Some go so far as to claim that these insects may penetrate into the brain and thus cause the distressing headache that is not unfrequently present in bad cases of catarrh.

My method of treatment is to use such remedies as will destroy these parasites by local treatment, and at the same time regulate any abnormal condition (such as impure blood or disordered liver, which will predispose to the development of the catarrh germs) by the proper constitutional remedies. Every case will be relieved by this treatment, patients often seeing improvement from one treatment to the next, and every case can be cured where the blood is not so thoroughly diseased that no treatment will benefit it. The local treatment is always painless, and can be used at home with very little trouble and no detention from business.

Medical Advocates of Inhalation

Professor Hueber, of the Berlin University, on page 296 of his "Practice," says: "Diseases of the lungs and air-passages present the proper field for the use of inhaled remedies, and the success of inhalation in this class of maladies often seems little short of the miraculous."

Sir Andrew Stewart, writing on "Pulmonary Consumption," says: "By this method (inhalation) the proper selected remedies are made to act on the immediate seat of the disease with most favorable results, far exceeding even the claims of the first advocates of inhalation.

Dr. Fordyce Baker says: "Inhalation when employed by a physician of skill and experience, yields an extraordinary large percentage of cures in diseases of the air passages. It is unfortunate that so few ordinary practioners have had the training necessary to the use of this method."

CATARRH!

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D. M. C. P. S. O.

Consumption can be cured. This has been demonstrated in thousands of cases treated by DR. WILLIAMS, with his new system of medicated inhalations combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, stomach, blood, etc.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

CATARRH.

To those who are afflicted with any of the different forms of Catarrh, we would say, there is no disease which presents a greater diversity of symptoms, none more loathsome, insidious, and dangerous as Nasal Catarrh, especially if complicated as it almost always is, even from its first appearance, with an affection of the throat.

From the earliest symptoms (which are generally attributed to a "cold in the head") to the various ugly and distressing stages through which the disease passes the patient is hopeful of recovery, and rarely gives it proper attention until certain alarming symptoms present themselves, denoting unmistakably the rapid advance of the malady to the lungs. Indeed, so various are the symptoms that the presence of the disease is not always known, or even suspected, until it has reached a stage difficult to arrest. The disease may or may not be attended by a discharge from the nostrils or throat; but there is usually present a morbid secretion and a frequent disposition (especially in the morning) to clear the throat, and the effort to do so is often, though not always, attended by expectoration; there is a sensation of heaviness in the frontal part of the head, and the brain sometimes suffers to an extent producing headache, vertigo and confusion; it becomes difficult to think clearly and to concentrate the mind; the memory becomes impaired and the intellect enfeebled; despondency of spirits and an excitable condition of the nervous system. Such is the effect of the disease, and if to this train of symptoms (which not infrequently leads to insanity or idiocy) we add many of the more loathsome physical effects, as caries, or rottenness of the bones of the face and head, a most offensive smell to the breath, and corrupt, morbid and poisonous secretions, destructive to serious injury to the sense of smell, hearing, sight and taste, we have a catalogue of horrors which would lead any person to make early and proper efforts to eradicate the disease from the system. Every case of Catarrh is curable if properly treated.

BRONCHITIS.

Acute Bronchitis is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes and is one of the most common of the pulmonary diseases. It is a dangerous disease, as it prevents the oxygenation of the blood, and in many cases, particularly after it passes into the chronic stage, the substance of the lungs becomes seriously involved, giving rise to what is very properly called Bronchial Consumption. In the acute form there is a sense of tightness or pressure across the chest, with considerable wheezing, severe cough and expectoration. This is at first a white glary mucous, which after a time becomes purulent. The patient in some cases is obliged to sit up in bed, the oppression across the chest is so great; the skin is clammy and prostration rapidly sets in, and in fatal cases there will be muttering delirium, coma and death.

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS.

Chronic Bronchitis is also an inflammation of the mucous membranes of the bronchial tubes. When a cold settles on the lungs the disease either ends in bronchitis or pneumonia. If it ends in bronchitis it usually passes off as a cold on the chest, and still the patient does not feel entirely well. He feels tired and languid, and is incapable of taking his usual amount of exercise, and experiences a shortness of breath, with more or less warmth in the palms of his hands. Soon after this a cough appears, accompanied by an expectoration of thick mucus, followed by a hect
